TRIPLE P ONLINE INITIATIVE

SUPPORTING WHĀNAU THROUGH COVID-19

Werry Workforce Whāraurau would like to invite you to participate in this initiative which is part of the Ministry of Health's psycho-social response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Triple P Online (TPOL) includes strategies for parenting during the COVID-19 pandemic, and will assist services to support families/whānau in building their confidence at this challenging time.

What do we want to achieve?

- Families can learn strategies/tools to feel confident about parenting during the effects of this COVID-19 pandemic.
- The workforce has the tools to provide evidence-based, responsive, and helpful ways of supporting whānau.

How will we achieve it?

- Provide access codes for the Triple P Online Programme to the workforce for distribution to families/whānau with children and teenagers free of charge.

How can your organisation or service be a part of this initiative?

OPTION 1

Distribute programme access codes through your own account within a built for purpose Triple P Online Client Management System. You will be given a login to the system that will enable you to issue codes to parents directly.

OPTION 2

The referring organisation completes a simple online form that is automatically sent to Werry Workforce Whāraurau.

The parent then receives an access code by email from the Triple P Online Management System.
